Electra Memorial Hospital named Top Critical Access Hospital

Electra Memorial Hospital in Electra, Texas was recently named one of the Top 20 Critical Access Hospitals (CAHs) for patient perspective in the country.

The Top 20 CAHs, including Electra Memorial Hospital, scored best among CAHs for patient perspective as determined by the Chartis Center for Rural Health. The rankings were recently announced by the National Rural Health Association (NRHA). An awards ceremony will be held during NRHA's Critical Access Hospital Conference in September in Kansas City, Mo.

The Top 20 CAHs have achieved success in overall performance based on a composite rating from eight indices of strength: inpatient market share, outpatient market share, quality, outcomes, patient perspective, cost, charge, and finance. This group was selected from the Chartis Center for Rural Health's 2023 top 100 CAH list, which was released earlier this year.

The top 20 CAH best practice recipients have achieved success in one of two key areas of performance:

Quality index: A rating of hospital performance based on the percentile rank across rural-relevant process of care measures.

Patient perspective index: A rating of hospital performance based on the percentile rank across all 10 HCAHPS domains.

"Electra Memorial Hospital is proud of the efforts our team has made that contributed to our hospital achieving this designation," says Rebecca McCain, CEO. "Our results as a Top 20 Hospital means our community can count on us to deliver the services they need now and in the future."
